

Guidelines & Rules for
THE BIRD DOG FOUNDATION, INC. ANNUAL COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP
ESSAY CONTEST FOR HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

The Bird Dog Foundation, Inc., has established a Scholarship Fund to promote interest in wildlife conservation and related subjects. An annual College Scholarship Essay Contest sponsored by the Bird Dog Foundation, Inc. has been in effect for several years now. This contest was created in the hopes that it would enhance scholarly training and education in wildlife and wildlife conservation as well as give financial aid to the college-bound student.

Strict adherence to the contest rules is required for a winning qualification. Attention to the following instructions is essential as well. It is highly recommended that instructors review a student's work prior to submission in order to guide the student towards presenting the best essay possible. Please remind your students to check for grammatical correctness and to follow the instructions for the contest.

This document contains The Bird Dog Foundation's complete contact information, the Foundation's Essay Contest privacy policy, the contest rules, the cover sheet format to follow, the annual contest deadline and the list of acceptable essay topics.

Students are encouraged to use the Bird Dog Foundation's William F. Brown Memorial Library which is open during the business hours of: 9:00 am-4:00 pm Tuesday-Friday, 10:00 am-4:00pm Saturdays, and 1:00 pm-4:00 pm Sundays. The Museum is always closed on Mondays and most major holidays. Check out the website Calendar of Events section for holiday closure listings.

Acceptable Essay Topics and their definitions for The Bird Dog Foundation Scholarship Essay Contest

The Bird Dog Foundation's primary mission is to preserve and promote the traditions of bird dogs, field trials, hunting and shooting sports. The Wildlife Heritage Center, the educational arm of the Foundation, strives to instill awareness of our natural world and develop interest in all the many facets of conservation and wildlife as these topics have a direct relation to the primary mission. If there is to be a future for sporting dogs, the younger generations and their children must come to appreciate the necessity for game bird habitat retention and improvement and sound natural resources conservation. Therefore, the Foundation has selected the topics listed below which focuses most on the core mission of the organization. Strict adherence to these topics listed below is required in order for an essay to be eligible for entry into the annual Bird Dog Foundation College Scholarship Essay Contests.

CONSERVATION & WILDLIFE TOPICS to include only the following:

- GAMEBIRDS: For example: The various aspects and habits of game birds or water birds (can focus on one or more species) predators specific to the species, their reproducing/nesting habits, study of the game bird eggs, population growth or decline (improving, declining, and/or remaining the same over a period of time and the factors involved), aviculture (the raising and care of birds and especially wild birds in captivity).
- HABITAT for GAME BIRDS AND WATER BIRDS For example: Description of the habitat environment, it's ecological diversity and the natural resources, plants, etc. needed to sustain populations of Game Birds and Water Birds such as Quail, Grouse, Prairie Chickens, Pheasants, Ducks & Geese, etc. Land use and management practices which help to preserve and promote the native habitat of these species. Historical factors that have been found that may be contributing directly to a decline in population of these specific game birds, etc.
- THE BENEFITS OF HABITAT CONSERVATION ON FARMS AND RANCHES For example: This topic could also include what agencies and organizations work towards improving habitat, etc. What are the benefits to wildlife, what are the benefits to humans, etc.
- THE ROLE OF HUNTERS AND FISHERMEN IN CONSERVATION This topic could also include the topic of laws that pertain to the hunter/fisherman, ethics, what/how their involvement helps to conserve or contribute to the management of wildlife as a natural resource.

- FAMOUS CONSERVATION ADVOCATES IN HISTORY
For example: Aldo Leopold, Henry William Herbert (aka. Frank Forester), etc.
- FORESTRY, GRASSLANDS, & WETLANDS For example: The art of managing and tending a forest, grassland, wetland or water resource. Good stewardship practices/effects of bad stewardship practices that impact these ecosystems. Fire's role in the ecosystem of forests and grasslands. Wildlife and native plants in those areas, the effects of invasive/exotic plants in those ecosystems, etc.

SPORTING DOGS & FIELD TRIALS

- BREEDS OF DOGS THAT FALL WITHIN THE CATEGORY OF SPORTING DOGS
For example, there are 40 different breeds that fall within this group: Pointers, Setters, Spaniels, Retrievers, German Shorthaired Pointers, etc. Their attributes, history or field trial activities. Can select one breed to write on or several in same essay.
- TRAINING SPORTING DOGS FOR VARIOUS FIELD TRIALS & TO HUNT GAME:
For example, how to successfully (or unsuccessfully) train the dogs, stories of trainers, who they are and how they operate, etc. What is daily life like operating a kennel that trains sporting dogs, where are the best locations to train during certain time of year, etc.
- FIELD TRIALS FOR SPORTING DOGS For example, the history of field trialing, historical accounts of some trials, what they are all about, etc. How judging works during a trial, various locations where sporting dog competitions are held, etc.
- THE AMES PLANTATION, THE ANNUAL FIELD TRIAL NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP HELD THERE.
- FAMOUS FIELD TRIAL AUTHORS AND REPORTERS IN HISTORY For example, Nash Buckingham, A. F. Hochwalt, etc.
